Battle Rages in Korean Straits=== Japanese Reported Victorious

VICE ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY, COMMANDING RUSSIA'S SECOND PACIFIC SQUADRON.

STEAMSHIP ON FIRE.

Old Dominion liner forced back to port.

Norfolk Va., May 29.—After about two hours and a half of hard fire fighting the Old Dominion steamship Hamilton came back to Norfolk at half past three o'clock yesterday afternoon with her crew exhausted and the fire raging in her forward hold. The Hamilton left this port yesterday morning at 4:30 and when she was about five hours out the engine room indicated that the fire had broken out somewhere between decks in the forward hold.

Capt. Roaz immediately put back in the port and notified Agent Crowell that none of his men could work on the fire because they were entirely exhausted from the hard work they had been doing ever since the fire started.

There were no passengers on board. The hold had been flooded with water. The officials of the company say that it will be impossible to estimate the amount of damage for several hours.

A NEW YORKER

Won the Kaiser's Cup, Defeating Ten Competitors.

Lizard, May 29.—The three masted schooner Atlantic, owned by Wilson Marshall, New York Yacht club, with Capt. Charles Barry at the wheel, won Kaiser's cup race Atlantic with all sails set, romped past Lizard today defeating her ten competitors.

Liver Bomber Killed.

Evansville, Ind., May 29.—Curtis Posey and Fred Clay, members on the steamer J. H. Richardson, quarreled over a crap game and Clay shot and killed Posey.

ADMIRAL TOGO.

Togo Reports the Sinking of Several Russian Vessels--Captured Others.

Japan Suffers Some Losses But Tokio is Wild With Delight.

RUSSIA NOT READY TO BELIEVE THE WORST

NAMES OF VESSELS RUSSIA LOSES.

Tokio, May 29.—The names of the Russian battleships and armored vessels sunk in the naval fight reported so far are:

Battleships Borodino and Emperor Alexander III.

Armored cruisers, Admiral Nakhimoff, Dideriksonki and Vladimir Monomach.

Coast defense vessels, Admiral Ushakov.

Protected cruisers, Jemling and Svetlana.

Vessels captured:

First-class battleship Orel, second-class battleship, Emperor Nicholas I; coast defense vessel, General Admiral Apraxin.

All the vessels are heavily armored fighting ships.

ADMIRAL NENOGATOFF CAPTURED.

TOKIO, MAY 29.—THE LATEST REPORT IS REGARD TO THE SEA BATTLE IS THAT REAR ADMIRAL NENOGATOFF, FOR WHOM ARRIVAL ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY WAITED BEFORE MAKING A DASH FOR VLADIVOSTOK, HAS BEEN CAPTURED.

A RUNNING BATTLE IS STILL ON THE JAPANESE PURSUING THE RUSSIAN VESSELS THAT ESCAPED DESTRUCTION.

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT THREE THOUSAND RUSSIANS ARE TAKEN PRISONERS.

ROJESTVENSKY HAS APPARENTLY ESCAPED.

ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY REPORTED INJURED.

LONDON, MAY 29.—THE CORRESPONDENT OF CENTRAL NEWS AT ST. PETERSBURG WIRE THAT ACCORDING TO DISPATCHES THE JAPANESE SANK THE BATTLESHIP KNAZ SUVAROFF, AND OSLIHA AND SEVERAL CRUISERS.

THE KNAZ SUVAROFF WAS ROJESTVENSKY'S FLAG SHIP. IT IS STATED THE ADMIRAL IS WOUNDED.

ANOTHER REPORT.

Washington, May 29.—Minister Griscum telegraphs the state department from Tokio, that Admiral Togo reports to his government that the total losses sustained by the Russian fleet Saturday and Sunday were: Two battleships and one coast defender, five cruisers and two special service ships and three destroyers were all sunk and in addition there were captured 2 battleships and 2 coast defenders, one special service ship, one destroyer and over two thousand prisoners. The admiral adds that the Japanese squadron is undamaged.

HOW THEY FEEL IN RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—The public is amazingly indifferent and quiet, despite the serious outcome of the fight between the Russian and Japanese fleets. The result of the fight is becoming generally known. In naval circles the statement is made that they do not believe Rojestvensky's fleet is annihilated. Official circles express surprise that the first news of the fight came from Washington. They say this proves America is a Japanese ally.

Battle Still in Progress.

Washington, May 29.—An official report from Minister Griscum, of Tokio, was received by the state department this morning and says Admiral Togo reports that he has sunk one large vessel of the Horodine class, (battleship), three smaller ships, besides capturing two or three others.

Togo adds that no Japanese ships were injured. Minister Griscum states that at the time he sent the message the battle was still progressing slowly.

All indications point to a great Japanese victory.

WAS A RUNNING FIGHT.

Tsingtan, May 29.—There is a running naval engagement between the Russian and Japanese fleets in the straits of Korea, near the island of Oki. It is reported that the whole Russian fleet is not participating, all the slower vessels having steamed around Japanese. The Japanese losses so far are said to be the cruiser and ten torpedo boats.

The island of Oki in the sea of Japan is about 200 miles northeast of

ON HER FEET.

Financial Aid is Rendered to Mrs. James Brown Potter, the Actress.

New York, May 29.—Intimate friends of Mrs. James Brown Potter, the actress, received word from London that American connections, supposed to be the Stillmans, had come to her aid and that she was once again in a sound financial condition. This report stated that all her debts incurred through unfortunate theatrical ventures had been settled. The actress who went to London a few years ago, met with great success and created a sensation. Of late, however, plays which have cost her thousands of dollars to produce, have not proved successful and seriously injured her financially.

Gowas which cost thousands, which she had especially made to appear in these plays, were confiscated to pay creditors.

FOR A SALOON.

The Swarming Bees, Seared and Seared the Keeper Into Closing the Place.

Louisville, Ky., May 29.—(Hear temporarily closed Carraro Brothers' saloon at Third avenue and Green streets yesterday. Charles Carraro mistook the moving honeybees for a storm cloud and quickly closed the doors. Meanwhile the bees settled on the front of the establishment and a nearby telegraph pole. Carraro peered through the glass and waved at his customers, who stood across the street waiting for the insects to move on. Finally the king and queen headed south and the insects were soon out of view. This is an annual performance of the bees family.

MORE DEATHS.

Result From Disturbances, Over in Russia.

Lodz, May 29.—Daring disturbances in the neighborhood of a synagogue soldiers fired on the crowd, killing two Jews.

Saturday night a workman mistaken for a police spy was stabbed to death.

The workmen are in an ugly mood. Many troops have arrived here.

Cruiser Founders, Captain Suicides.

Santiago de Chile, May 29.—The Chilean cruiser Presidente Pinto has foundered in the Gulf of Ancud, north of the island of Chiloe, off the southern part of the coast of Chile. According to one report, her commander, Capt. Whiteside, committed suicide in despair. Another version says he was drowned.

STRIKERS WILL HAVE LONG SIEGE

Planning for a Big Demonstration July 5.

75,000 New York Teamsters Threaten to Go Out in Sympathy For Chicago Strikers.

LITTLE VIOLENCE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 29.—Nothing developed yesterday to indicate an immediate settlement of the teamsters' strike, which has been in progress now for nearly two months.

That the labor unions are of the belief that the fight will be a long one was demonstrated at the meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor, when arrangements were made for holding a strike demonstration on July 5th. It is the intention to hold a monster parade of strikers and affiliated unions unless the controversy has been ended before that date.

At the meeting yesterday each man affiliated with the central body was represented by three delegates at the request of President Bold. The strike situation was discussed in all details and the sentiment of the meeting was that the steamers would continue the fight until the seven express companies should offer some sort of compromise. The officials of the express companies are still firm in the declaration that no concessions need be looked for from their side.

The city was quiet yesterday and there were no reports of violence.

May Strike in Sympathy.

New York May 29.—Twenty-three locals of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, representing about 75,000 drivers, held a meeting yesterday to discuss the question of a sympathetic strike at New York to assist the men in Chicago. According to several delegates a strike may be ordered here within forty-eight hours. The meetings were held with much secrecy.

GREAT DISASTER.

Reported Two Hundred Lives Lost in Sinking of Ship.

Montreal, May 29.—It is reported here that a French fishing steamer has gone down off Great Banks and two hundred lives were lost.

A Teacher Killed.

Evansville, Ind., May 29.—At Newburg, Ind., "Tate" Howard teased William Hoffman, aged 29 years, over his sweetheart, when Hoffman pulled his gun and shot Howard. Hoffman is under arrest. The father is wealthy. Howard was thirty-five years old and leaves a family.

Thieves regard life from an unpleasant point of view.

Today's Schedule.
Paducah at Henderson.
Cairo at Princeton.
Hopkinsville at Vincennes.

Paducah Shuts 'Em Out.
Henderson, May 29.—In a warm game the "Infants" were shut completely out by Paducah. Brahe was in excellent condition and let the locals down with four hits, well scattered. Five safe ones, coming all in a bunch, let in the scores for the visitors. A large crowd witnessed the game. Empire Bush, the new man, officiated and rendered very fair decisions. Score:

Cairo Wins From Infants.
Princeton, May 29.—"Dutch" Wagner was in line shape yesterday and though the "Infants" managed to touch him up for seven hits he kept them yards apart and no damage of any extra was done. The "Mid Wallopers" connected with Cairo for but four safe ones, not those, combined with errors by the "Children" were what allowed the winning scores to cross the rubber. An errorless game was played by the Cairo organization, and sensational hitting by them was a feature of the game. Score:

	R	H	E
Cairo, .....	5	4	0
Princeton, .....	2	7	3
Batteries—Wagner and Pett; Carnes and Wagner.

Alexander Got The Bumps.
Vincennes, May 29.—Boylan, a "south paw," picked up somewhere in the jungles of Illinois, was given a try out yesterday and kept the "Not Students" well in hand at all stages of the game, allowing them but three hits and those well scattered. Alexander in the box for Hopkinsville, was thumped so badly that it was found necessary to blanket him and substitute Morris. The Kolbies were there when it came to hitting and it was their strength in that point which won them the game. Score:

Vincennes, .....	9	11	2
Hopkinsville, .....	1	4	4
Batteries—Boylan and Lemon; Alexander, Morris and Schanz.

How Paducah Won Saturday.
Paducah won from Vincennes again Saturday in a well played game. Hubie Whitley who was tried out by the New York Americans, was rapped for nine hits. Frakes was in good form and allowed only three hits. The Hoosiers again played an errorless game, the second of the series.

Paducah, .....	2	9	2
Batteries—Whitley and Lemon; Frakes and Land. Umpire—Hush.

What Vincennes Says.
Empire Bush, for a first appearance did well yesterday and from his work it is believed he will be a success in the league. His only mistake came in the eighth, when he failed to put "Red" Perry out of the game. Perry kicked at a decision and aimed the ball at Bush as if to throw it.

flush rushed at the player and it was thought that he intended to "slag" Perry, but the latter informed Bush that he meant nothing by the action. During the remainder of the game Perry did not open his mouth. The Indians are the strongest team that ever faced the Kolbies and are sure to maintain a good position in the race. Paducah players say they lost the two games with Princeton because of the rough diamond at that place. They claim it is by far the worst diamond in the league and one that makes fast work impossible. Grover Land is as handsome and as full of life as ever. Land is a jewel and if he can learn to bat will cover big league territory some day. In Lovel and Kolb, Paducah and Vincennes have the best baseball and a game is worth going a long distance to see. Paducah has great players in McClain and Taylor, but their equals fill the same positions with the Kolbies. Vincennes Capital.

What Did The Work.
The Vincennes Capital says of the game Wiley Platt pitched: "The Kolbies at League park yesterday afternoon went down to defeat in one of the prettiest games ever played in this city, when it is considered that the diamond was very muddy from the recent rains. The cause of the defeat was the great pitching of the old National leaguer, Wiley Platt, who, outside of one lining, was invincible, and who held the locals to four hits, one of these being a Texas leaguer that fell just out of reach of the Paducah gardeners. Platt at times was wild and gave six bases on balls, but he would no sooner get men on bases than he would send over enough benders to retire the flies without runs."

Barney Dreyfuss is teaching the bullets and rowdies in the National league a lesson. President William, of the National league, has suspended Manager McGraw, of the New York team, for fifteen days and imposed a fine of $150 on him for using obscene language on the ball field toward President Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburgh team.

Arthur Long, formerly with Paducah, is now acting manager of the Henderson club while Manager Knibitz is in Indianapolis recruiting new players. Henderson has a good team, but wants to strengthen it.

New Crowder has been benched by Henderson. The benching order reads for thirty days or until the shortstop can get into condition. Just now Crowder is suffering from a wrenched muscle in his side.

Young Brahe of the Paduke staff, is pretty strong on the pitch. His games are always scored with very few hits off his delivery.—Cairo Tribune.

Lon Hedges, of Paducah, who was sold to Rock Island, Ill., in the Three I league, by Milwaukee, has been released or suspended, it is said, and played with the Cairo Padres yesterday against St. Louis team and was defeated. Hedges did not go by his name, but was seen by Paducah people who talked with him. It is understood he will play with Cairo.

Paducah fans who were in Cairo yesterday state that Holycross has been sent back to Cairo and will not be played again until a matter pertaining to his signing with Cairo has been settled. It is said that some other team claims the right to Holycross, and rather than forfeit games where he has played the management decided to send him home.

Amateur Baseball.
Tomorrow the L. A. L. and Fumons teams, of the city league will meet in a match game at Wallace park. The pitchers will be Dinguld and Henry Dike, the former for the Famous and the latter for the L. A. L. team.

Eddie Itratic left Sunday for Columbus, O., to sign with the Nebraska Indians to catch. He was with this team last summer and made good. They had been after him for several weeks.

The following is the official standing of the city league teams:

The L. A. L. team defeated the Central at the shop grounds Sunday morning by a score of 10 to 3. The batteries were Theobald, Sessler and Andrecht for the L. A. L. Sutherland and Smith for the Famous.

The Central went to Metropolis Sunday afternoon and defeated the Metropolis boys by a score of 9 to 5. Gregory pitched for the Central team.

The 1905 team has been disbanded and will be in the city league no more. It was a strong team and would have run a tight race in the league for first place. The players have gone to other teams.

John Jones has signed with the Central team and played yesterday. Convey, of the Central team, has quit baseball.

The Famous team was billed to play at Princeton Sunday, but the game was called off on account of a death in the Princeton team.
The Shamrocks and Paducah Juniors played at the depot grounds Sunday morning, the game resulting in a victory for the former by a score of 5 to 1. The batteries were Block and Crutchfield for the Shamrocks, Davidson and Grear for the Paducah Juniors.

Henry Dike, the baseball pitcher, went to Columbus, O., today at noon to join the Nebraska Indians, a baseball team. Eddie Brahe, the catcher, has already gone and Dike and Brahe will be the chief battery for the Indians. Dike has been playing amateur ball in Paducah and has surrounding towns and is a good man.

Catcher Warner to Marry.
Charles C. Warner, catcher for the Henderson baseball club during the first season of the Kity league and last season with Paducah for a time, will marry Miss Irene O'Nan at the home of the bride's parents in Henderson today. Warner has given up baseball and is now a traveling salesman for a New York house with Kentucky as his territory. They will live in Henderson.

Tri-State Baseball League.
Chattanooga, Tenn., May 29.—The Tri-State Baseball League has finally been organized in this city, with the following officers: W. S. Waddell, Sheffield, Ala., president; J. L. Molesdale, Chattanooga, Tenn., secretary; C. H. Evans, Dalton, Ga., treasurer, and Frank Moffett, Knoxville; J. L. Molesdale, Chattanooga; R. E. Smith, Huntsville, Ala.; C. N. Fuller, Rome, Ga.; C. ## THEY MUST BUY.

Or License Inspector Will Get Warrants Against Them.

Mr. Ed. Rivers, the newly elected license inspector, started in on his duties today with vigor. Today Inspector Rivers has been notifying all merchants that their license is due and if not paid within the next few days, a warrant will be procured. Mr. Rivers has a great deal of work to do and realizes he must push it as rapidly as possible in order to catch up and place the office in the same condition as left when Inspector Clark was taken ill.

Dorothy Dodd

The styles of Footwear this spring are unusually varied. Not for years has there been such a diversity of attractive ones.

Noticeable among the new features are the pretty effects in Ribbon Ties, the swell Blucher patterns with extension soles and the Brown Leather Oxfords in the natty styles that are always popular.

Every demand from the baller-made effect to the light, airy ones may find its answer in the Dorothy Dodd line this season, and it is the one shoe that combines the feature of a moderate price with comfortable, beautiful high class footwear.

MAY SHOOT DOGS

TO PROTECT THEMSELVES FROM BODILY HARM.

Judge Sanders Declines a Case of Importance to Mail Carriers and Dog Owners.

Police Judge D. L. Sanders this morning in police court rendered a decision of importance to mail carriers as well as citizens who own dogs. He decided that a mail carrier has a right to protect himself from dogs, even to the extent of shooting them. The mail carrier is required by the government to deliver mail to the door and if vicious dogs are kept, the owners must take the consequences.

In the case of Postman Fabian Greenwell, the consequences were a badly shot-up canine. Mr. Greenwell Saturday last mail for the residence of Mr. Lane Fields, on North Fifth street, and as he entered the gate a dog attacked him and attempted to bite him on the back and legs. He shot the animal twice, but it is not dead.

The dog is an old one, and has few teeth, consequently the letter carrier escaped injury, but when he shot the dog he did not know it could not injure him, and took no chances. Mr. Fields had him arrested, but Judge Sanders, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the warrant, and stated for the benefit of all concerned that letter carriers have a right to use such means, or whatever force proves necessary, in protecting themselves.

The mail carriers are very much pleased with the decision, because a few dogs occasionally cause them much trouble. All who harbor vicious dogs should take warning and now keep them away from their Sun's boys.

Mr. Hodges Not a Candidate.
Mr. J. O. Hodges, of Lamasco, Lyon county, writes to the Sun that the report current in this section that he is a candidate for state senator in the Third district and is for Judge Paymer, is a mistake. Mr. Hodges says he is not a candidate and has taken no position on the senatorship question.

If milliners would confine their window displays to 25-cent hats it would do much to induce bicyclists to take a hand in the matrimonial game.

We Paid $100,000

For Liquezone, Yet We Give You a 50c. Bottle Free.

We paid $100,000 for the American rights to Liquezone; the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. We cured all kinds of germ diseases with it—thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable. We proved that in germ troubles it always accomplishes what medicine cannot do. Now we ask you to try it—try it at our expense. Test it as we did; see what it does. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do. You will use it, not only to get well, but to keep well. And it will save nearly all of your sickness.

Kills Inside Germs.
Liquezone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquezone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

There lies the great value of Liquezone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact that gives Liquezone its worth to humanity. And that worth is so great that we have spent over one million dollars to supply the first bottle free to each sick one we learned of.

Germ Diseases.
These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are uncertain. Liquezone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON
For this offer may not appear again. Fill out the blanks and mail it to The Liquezone Company, 436-438 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

50c. Bottle Free.
If you need Liquezone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to show you what Liquezone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please, accept it today, for it places you under no obligation whatever.

Liquezone costs 50c. and 11.

TRAVELING MEN

Preparing For Fall Carnival—Committees Are Appointed.

A meeting of the Paducah Traveling Men's club was held at the Palmer House Saturday night and committees appointed for the fall carnival to be given under the auspices of the club.

The executive committee is: H. C. Renner, Milton Sanchez, Ernest Lackey, Simon Hecht and H. C. Hoover.

Press committee: Milton Sanchez, H. S. Van Loan, G. F. Buchanan, C. B. Renfro and H. C. Hoover.

Milton Sanchez will be director-general of the carnival.

The heads of houses excursion by rail, set for June 12th, was declared off on account of the work required by the carnival. The members of the club will at once begin distributing advertising matter for the big show, and will do it well, every member taking it out on his weekly trips and scattering it far and wide.

Mr. H. C. Hoover was elected secretary of the club, vice W. F. Shelton, resigned.

Building Committee Tonight.

The Elks' building committee will hold a meeting this evening at the City National bank to inspect the plans for new Elks' building and all members are urged to attend. It was not expected last week to hold the meeting until Wednesday, but this has been reconsidered, and the meeting will be held tonight.

BOARD OF WORKS IS MAKING INQUIRY

About Improved Streets—Many Letters Written.

The First Two Replies Received Favor Bitulithic Over Asphalt and Brick Street Paving.

SKINNING FOR BOARD OF WORKS

Secretary S. A. Fowler, of the board of public works, has written to the city authorities in a number of cities with a view to getting their views regarding improved streets. Today he received his first replies.

One is from Mr. Andrew Queier, mayor of Shreveport, La. He states that Shreveport has 140,000 square yards of bitulithic paving, 100,000 of asphalt and 75,000 of brick. He says that they find the bitulithic street best of all, and that there is little dust. Asphalt, he alleges, is slicker and dustier, and is cracking. Asphalt put down a year ago is cracking and will have to be repaired shortly.

He advises Paducah to stick to bitulithic streets.

Mr. H. L. Collins, commissioner of public works of Atlanta, Ga., states that they have all kinds of streets, but prefer bitulithic material to either asphalt or brick. He says that his own choice of streets, however, is the modern wood block pavements, many miles of which have been built in Atlanta. Georgia sells the blocks and they are quite cheap there, but in this part of the country wood is regarded as too unsanitary. A few years ago Evansville, Ind., had an epidemic of typhoid fever which was traced, it is alleged, to the wooden block streets, and all of them were immediately torn up.

Secretary Fowler expects many additional letters in the near future.

It is reported that when the council holds its next meeting, one of the members proposes to trim the board of public works. The trouble is the employment of an outside man to run the street roller. Certain members of the council, it is said, resent the fact that the board of works "went outside the city for a mechanic."

The board of works, according to reports, will be at the skinning. It is alleged that a brother-in-law of a member of one of the legislative boards wanted the job, and didn't get it, hence the row. The board of works claims it has had all kinds of trouble getting a competent man to run the roller. Last year the street committee of the general council put a man in charge of the roller and he built a fire without a drop of water in the boiler, and burned it, costing the city $255. The city had to sell the old roller.

Recently the board of works sent to the factory for a good man to run the new roller. The board wanted more than a mechanic, it wanted a practical street builder.

The factory sent a good man here and said it would guarantee him for a year. Anything that happens to the roller while he is on it, the factory has to stand for. This man is Mr. Wright. He was to stay a month and the city before his time was up attempted to get a good man in his place, to operate the roller.

According to a member of the board of works, the first local man to try it can't do the job, costing the city $15. Two who applied were under the influence of liquor and another got drunk on the roller. It is alleged by a member of the board.

"After that we decided to get Mr. Wright to stay," said the member today. "He is a practical street builder, which is necessary in order to successfully operate the roller."

There will be no council meeting tonight, as the boards meet every first and third Monday and Thursday and this is the fourth Monday.

Mr. G. M. Ingram, of the Nashville Roofing and Paving company, arrived in the city this afternoon from Nashville. His company recently increased its capital to half a million, and Mr. Ingram is still president of it. He is a good man, and the bitulithic material promises to soon be used all over the country to a greater extent than asphalt was ever used.

This morning the board of public works ordered a number of big signs painted on tin to be posted about the market house, containing the words, "Spitting Prohibited." They will be posted high and will be in large, conspicuous letters. Market Master Smedley will see that the ordinance is enforced, too.

Constable A. C. Shelton has a petition with nearly 300 signatures for a bill on Broad street which will make it possible for residents of Mechanicburg and Jersey to reach the Paducah Union depot without having to go many blocks out of the way.

Residents in the southern portion of the city have been trying to get this fill or a bridge for some time, but the boards have turned it down because of the expense. It is said such a fill will cost $2,500, although it will be only a short one. Constable Shelton will keep working with his petition to secure the fill and will present it at the proper time.

The stone curbing for South Third street between Kentucky and Adams has arrived, and as soon as it is placed, excavations and grading will begin and the street proper will be constructed. The curbing the remainder of the way to Broad is grand. Contractor Bridges is moving things along rapidly.

Wire Inspector Gillsdorf has gone to work, and is inspecting in the vicinity of Fifth and Broadway. He will try to have all local wiring in good condition before the five remaining months of the time allowed the city by the underwriters, have expired.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremont, Tex., writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. 'It is the best liniment I ever used.' 25c, 50c, $1.

GOOD CROWDS.

Many Hundred People Went to Renton, Southland and Eddyville Yesterday.

The old harmony singing at Renton, Marshall county, yesterday was a great success, over 2,000 people being in attendance.

There were a number of Paducah people present and local ticket sellers at both depots nearly sold out. A total of 750 tickets were sold out of Paducah, 200 at the C. & O. depot and 550 at the N. C. & St. L. depot. The ticket supply at the C. & O. depot ran out and at the N. C. & St. L. depot but few were left.

All persons from Paducah went out on the regular trains but on the south end special trains were run by the N. C. & St. L. road and brought hundreds to Renton to attend the singing.

The boat excursions out of Paducah were also well patronized, about 400 going to Smithland on the Dick Fowler and 300 or more to Eddyville on the George Cowling. Most of the latter's crowd was from Metropolis and Brookport, but about 100 were picked up here.

Exposure.

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure.

Mrs. A. Barr Houston, Tex., writes Jan. 31, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take." 25c, 50c, $1.

Sold by Alvey & List and G. C. C. Kolb, Paducah, Ky.

DIABOLO'S FALL
MAY PROVE FATAL

Athlete Who Made Many Friends Here Hurt.

The Trap in the "Loop" Opened at the Wrong Time—Did Three Stunts at the Carnival.

RELIEVED HE WILL RECOVER.

Arthur Holden, the "Diabolo" who looped the loop here at the carnival week before last, came near being killed at Owensboro Saturday afternoon in the hippodrome. He is a very enthusiastic and daring athlete, and performed three of the principal feats at the carnival—the "loop-the-loop," the "high dive" and the "leap the gap." While here he laughingly said to several friends that he did it for $125 a week, that there so many in the business that the price had to tumble, so he was "doing all three for $125 per."

Saturday the trap in the big circle he rushed around on his bicycle opened prematurely and he was thrown out against the horizontal edge of the loop before him. He got up, walked a short distance and fell, apparently dead. He was carried to his tent by the "strong man." For a time it was believed he was fatally hurt, but when the carnival company left it was believed he would recover.

The loop used by him has been the cause of three men's death, and he came near being killed here on the first or second night. It being too slippery.

Young Holden made many friends here. He is a good athlete, a graduate of Princeton college and a resident of Newark, N. J. His wife accompanies him on his trips. He did not "jump the gap" here but a time or two. This is said to be more dangerous than either the loop feat or high dive.

Owensboro is said to be an unfortunate place for Col. Mundy. When there four years ago Fred Lyon, his lion tamer, died and was buried there. Some of his people had been to the cemetery decorating the grave only a short time before "Diabolo" was hurt. The young man has had a score or more of accidents since he joined Mundy two years ago, but none so serious as the one Saturday.

JAP COLONY

Is Contemplated for Texas According to Reports.

Washington, May 29.—Japanese colonization is contemplated in Texas by a wealthy Japanese agriculturist, who recently visited the United States, according to a report submitted to the department of commerce and labor by Fred D. Fisher, the American consul at Tamsui, Formosa, who based his announcement upon recent publications in Japanese papers.

The report says that 1,000 farmers are to be collected in Japan and that as a first undertaking 9,800 acres will be cultivated in paddy fields in Texas.

Mr. Fisher has forwarded to the department an interview with the Japanese gentleman, in which the statement was made that farming was the only enterprise that can profitably be undertaken in America by the Japanese. He says that he intends to invest upward of $350,000 the first year in breaking lands and in other expenses. The colony is to locate on lands rich in soil, but until recently used for grazing.

HOUSE EVERY YEAR.

And Plenty of Paducah Readers Have the Same Experience.

Don't neglect an aching back. It will get worse every year. Backache is really kidney ache. To cure the backache you must cure the kidneys.

If you don't, other kidney ills follow—Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease.

A Paducah citizen tells you how—the cure is easy.

Mrs. C. H. Wilson, of 525 South Fourth street, says: "My father died with Bright's disease, and knowing what he suffered I was continually anxious about my own condition, particularly so then. I suffered untold misery for years with backache and kidney complaint. I have had attacks that compelled me to keep my bed for weeks and no matter how comfortable my surroundings the mattress seemed like a bed of rocks, and every movement I made felt like a dagger was piercing me in the kidneys. The worst attack I ever had was just previous to sending to Dultois Kolb & Co.'s drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I actually collapsed; there was swelling plainly visible across the loins and the aching was excruciating. When a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills gave relief I could only call the help a Godsend. A continuation of the treatment disposed of the last attack. I eat well, sleep better and at present am in the best of health. Send anyone to me for minute particulars about my experience with and opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

'Squire Blaney Harper died this morning at his home at Florence Station this county, after a long illness from heart disease. For some days his condition had been precarious.

He was born and reared in this county, and was 72 years old. He was a man respected and liked by all who knew him, and his loss will be keenly felt, especially by those among whom he had lived so long.

He leaves three children, Attorney A. L. Harper, of the city, Dr. R. D. Harper, of the county, and Mrs. William Dunaway, of the county.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, burial at the family burying ground near Florence.

NEWSPAPER COMBINE

Cleveland Leader and News Sold to Owner of Evening World.

Cleveland, May 27.—President C. W. Chase of the Cleveland Leader Printing company has announced officially that the Leader and its evening edition, the News and Herald, had been sold to a syndicate headed by Chas. O. Otis, Jr., a prominent local capitalist. The syndicate has purchased, it is understood, two-thirds or more of all the stock of the Leader company, including that held by the Cowlee estate. The consideration is said to have been close to $500,000.

The Evening News and Herald will be combined with the Cleveland World, an afternoon paper, now owned by Mr. Otis and his associates. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Leader company this afternoon Mr. Otis was elected president to succeed Mr. Chase.

BOYS IN A FIGHT.

Over a Youthful Sweetheart, and One Is Mortally Wounded.

Whitesburg, Ky., May 29.—A desperate duel between school boys over a 16 year old sweetheart is reported here from Lower Linn Fork Creek, in Perry county. As a result of the encounter Elbert Holcombe lies mortally wounded and Ira Cornette is seriously but not fatally injured. Holcombe is 20 years old and Cornette 18. Both have been paying attentions to Ella Ingram and a meeting yesterday led to a quarrel which ended in the tragedy. Miss Ingram is almost crazed over the affair.

—Mr. Robert Wilkins, of the south side, lost $20 Saturday night on Broadway or between Sixth and Husbands, Eighth and Beckman streets. He has notified the police and will give a reward for the return of his money.

Cliff Adams Fell From an N. C. & St. L. Train.

Cliff Adams, white, who resides at Murray, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock at Hazel station, and narrowly escaped being killed by an N. C. & St. L. train.

Adams was en route to Murray and about 2 miles south of Hazel fell from the train. He narrowly missed going under the wheels, but when picked up was found some distance from the track, where he had rolled.

His right leg below the knee was badly fractured and the injured man was taken to Murray where the injury was dressed.

Hoof Turned Off Horn.

The Nos. 1 and 3 fire departments were called out at 12 o'clock last night to the residence of Mr. John Mulvin, at Tenth and Broadway to extinguish a blaze in the barn roof. The roof was a blaze when the firemen arrived, but they did good work and soon had the fire under control.

The roof was burned off, but the barn was empty and little damage resulted. The loss will be about $50, the value of a new roof.

Daily Thought.

"Better be beaten in the right than succeed in the wrong."

IT IS DIFFERENT HERE.

James Dalrymple, of Glasgow, Scotland, is here to tell the people of Chicago something about owning and operating the street car lines. The distinguished Scot will possibly find things a little different from what he expects—unless he was better informed on conditions in American cities than is suspected. Mr. Dalrymple is quoted as having said of the principle of municipal ownership as applied in Glasgow:

"Glasgow now controls its gas, electricity, tramways, water, markets, parks, baths, lodging houses and telephone system. The situation in Glasgow is different from what it is here. In this country, I understand, every man holding a municipal position has to be a politician, whereas in Glasgow, every man in the city service must not be a politician. Since Glasgow took over the tramways in 1894, we have raised salaries, and increased mileage, and reduced the fare so that now it is a half penny per half mile, the maximum charge being ten cents in your money. We plan to pay interest, two per cent, for a sinking fund, intend to wipe off the debt in thirty years; and five per cent, for depreciation."

One thing Mr. Dalrymple may find out is that there is about as much prospect of taking municipal matters out of politics in Chicago as there is of a hog sprouting teeth. The problems that Chicago has to solve are not those on which foreigners who know nothing about conditions over here, can give her pointers. Mr. Dalrymple doubtless understands the municipal ownership question in his own home, where he says there is no politics, but he may have no conception of what municipal ownership would be in the United States, where unfortunately men are put in control of such utilities where a city owns them, because of their politics and not because of their competency or knowledge of the things necessary to know to successfully, satisfactorily and profitably operate them.

If Mr. Dalrymple can tell us how to get politics out of such things, it will be of vastly more benefit than telling how they operate the car lines in Glasgow. As he himself virtually admits, municipal ownership cannot be a success where the men in control are politicians.

The class "grumbler" at the State College at Lexington, Ky., has been expelled for writing something in his class paper alleged to be offensive to some of the faculty, although it never went beyond the class censor. The arrogant, narrow and contemptible methods alleged to be in vogue at the state college are greatly to be deplored. It is time men of broad minds and some ability were placed in charge of this institution. The present faculty, or at least some of them, appear to be exceedingly small. Spite, malice, prejudice and bigotry, to say nothing of vanity and selfishness, seem to actuate them in many things. For some time hints have been thrown out that the college ought to be differently managed. Why don't some of the able papers come right out and demand a change? Everybody in Lexington, and many in other parts of the state are said to know exactly the caliber of these men. Why they don't demand a few resignations in kind to understand.

The alleged election conspirators at Louisville—policemen and other tools of the democratic machine who assassinate the ballot there at every election—were given a fair trial and acquitted. They were not adjudged innocent, however, because they did not violate the law, or because it was not proven that they violated the law, but because they were technically guilty of "conspiracy." In other words, they assaulted and otherwise intimidated voters, but it could not be proven that they had any previous agreement to accomplish the result that was accomplished. It is a victory for the election thieves, but next time they will not find such easy sailing. As the Post remarks, hereafter determined men will be found near all the polls, and democrats or others attempting to interfere with the election will do so at their peril.

"Of course Paducah will do everything possible against the building of another railroad to this place," sagely declares the Mayfield Messenger. Nonsense, neighbor. Paducah wants Mayfield to grow and flourish like a green bay tree, and blossom like a big sunflower. We consider Mayfield people among our best friends and customers. They come here to spend their money, to attend our theatre, and see our ball games. Their prosperity means ours. Proceed with your railroad, Mayfield. We may even help. If you won't insist on that cut-off being built for the purpose of leaving us marooned in the woods.

The democratic senatorial race in the Third district is getting interesting, as well as warm. Some of our democratic friends have dragged the beef trust into the fight, and the Kutawa Times of Saturday claims an agent for the beef trust called at the home of Rev. J. W. Oliver there and wanted to swap him a $1,500 job of some kind to pull off the track in the interest of one of the other candidates, whom it is claimed the beef trust for some reason desires nominated.

PAINFUL INJURIES

To a Party Returning From a Foot Washing.

There was a serious runaway near Mt. Pleasant, a few miles south of Paducah, on the Mayfield road, yesterday afternoon in which three persons were thrown out of a buggy and one injured.

Miss Hettie Boaz and Carrie Earnhardt and Mr. Nelson Boaz were driving home from the Mt. Pleasant foot washing when their horse became frightened and ran against a tree. The buggy was overturned and Miss Boaz badly crushed. It was thought that one limb was broken, but this proved erroneous.

Miss Earnhardt and Mr. Boaz escaped with slight bruises. The buggy is a total wreck but the horse escaped injury.

PRISONERS MAY HAVE TO WAIT

Before They Can be Released From Their Cells.

The Foundation Has Sunk an Inch From Recent Rains Flooding the Cellar.

WILLIS MOUNT IS FORTUNATE.

The sensation of the ten prisoners in the county jail must be anything but a pleasant one just now. They have been confined in their cells for three days and it is today given out by the municipalists trying to repair the mechanism of the jail so the cells can be opened, that at least a week longer will be required to get the big cage to revolve.

In the meantime, prisoners can neither be put in nor taken out of the cells. The jailer can get into the corridor and feed the prisoners, but can get no further and they can not get out. Nothing about of dynamite would liberate them.

Willis Mount, recently granted a new trial for killing Willis Nutty, is the most fortunate one of all, as he didn't happen to be in a cell when the machinery sank down and prevented the opening of the cells. As a result he may still spend his time in the corridor. He sleeps and eats in a front cell not in the jail proper.

The other nine prisoners are missing their exercise, but have to grin and bear it. Mr. Sam Foreman and a force of mechanics are working underneath the jail, and find that it is necessary to dig down into the foundation. It appears the recent rain flooded the cellar of the jail and caused the foundation to sink fully an inch, throwing the machinery out of line, and preventing the mechanism that turns the bars and opens or shuts the cells, from working. Mr. Foreman said today he thought it would be about a week before the cells can be opened.

Similar trouble has been experienced at the jail before, but never so bad as this time.

This afternoon it was said that possibly the prisoners might be extricated by morning, but not probable.

IN THE COURTS

Circuit Court.

In the case of I. O. Walker, administrator, against Elma Davis and others, a judgment for sale was filed.

In the case of R. G. Caldwell, assignee, against Charles E. Graham and others, the claim of Dr. Andrew Sargent was filed, amounting to $1,402.66. The commissioner was ordered to pay the claim at 6 per cent.

Tomorrow morning the case of Tom Harrison against the city of Paducah will be argued. He claims about $600 back salary due him. Attorney Wm. Marble for the plaintiff and City Solicitor Puryear for the defendant, will be the attorneys to argue the case.

To Attend Bowling Green Court.

Attorney C. C. Grassham will go to Bowling Green tonight to appear for the Ayer-Lord Tie company in a suit brought by Porter, administrator, against the tie company for $1,500, the value of timber bought several years ago. It seems that a guardian sold the timber but it developed he was not the true, legal guardian and when Porter qualified as administrator, brought suit against the tie company to compel payment on the grounds of a technicality.

New Real Estate Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Tom C. Leach Investment Co., have been filed in county court. The capital stock is fixed at $2,000 divided into shares of $100 each. The following are stockholders: James, H. and Charlie Welles; Geo. C. Wallace, P. D. and Charles Fitzpatrick; T. C. Leach, H. V. Sherrell, Harry and Ale Livingston, Jake Biederman and Will Minnich.

Police Court.

Officers Seuser and Hill went to a negro residence in the southern portion of the city this morning looking for two jail breakers who were supposed to be hiding within, but did not find them. Instead they found three men and three women asleep in the same room.

Ernest Campbell and Cementsia Young, were fined $20 and costs for immorality, and the cases against the others were continued until tomorrow.

The cases against Fletch Terrell, Roy Nelson, L. E. Girard, Joe Harper, McElathery-Providence Co. and the Paducah Wagon Works Co., for obstructing the streets and sidewalks were continued again.

Charles McCarty, John Lincoln and John Humphrey, white, were fined $1 and costs each for being drunk.

Other cases were: Sam Hohnsman, white, $10 and Fred Gray, white, $1 and costs for a breach of the peace; Janie Ricketts, colored, breach of peace, dismissed; Arthur Pryor, white, breach of ordinance, dismissed; Katie Jones, colored, breach of peace, $10 and costs; Georgia Williams and Nellie Cooper colored, false swearing, continued until Thursday; Slick Yelima, Harry Phillips and Jack Hancock, white, grand larceny, continued until Thursday.

No Arrest Made.

Constable A. C. Shelton was called out last night to "Canaan" to investigate a reported wife murder. He found on arrival that it was nothing more than a family fight in which no one was seriously injured. He found, he alleges, that John Wilson, colored, and his wife had fallen out and the husband had locked her up in a room and started to whip her. She hit him once or twice, having no weapon, and when the constable arrived the trouble was over.

No arrests were made, but this case will be investigated before Justice Jesse Young today or tomorrow.

County Court.

Richard Hoach, city, aged 23, to Annie Duffy, city, aged 21, colored.

Alfred Boaz, city, aged 55, to Francis Carson, aged 35, city, colored.

Hessig Appraisement.

Appraisers appointed to appraise the estate of H. T. Hessig, bankrupt, appraised the distillery and other property this morning but on account of the large amount of figuring to do the total appraisement could not be estimated today. The appraisers are Messrs. C. E. Jennings, real estate, John Rinkoff, whiskey and general stock, and George Shelton, machinery.

SECRET ARMS IN THE EAST.

Weapons That Are Concealed For Ready Use By Both Sexes.

In Hindustan there is a choice of secret arms. The guppi, or sword stick, may be bought in every bazaar and is said to have been used in the days of Akbar (1543-1605), but it is doubtful whether the phrase in the "Ain-i-Akbari" of Abdul Fazi does not rather refer to the Arab dagger, with its deep sheath, containing both blade and haft. If the traveler prefer it, he may buy a sword thin and flexible as the Toledo colled blades to wind around his waist in his cummerbund. If he be a fakir, the ornamental crutch which upholds his arm while he edifies the faithful by silent reflections upon the gyilane Om will contain a sharp pointed quadrangular blade for the confusion of the unbeliever. Even lovely women in the harem carry a miniature katar, with H shaped grip, or a diminutive pesh-kabaz, double curved, single edged, atrocious.

In Mysore and Haidarabad the bich-lawa (scorpion), the double curved misericordia of the east, is carried by the lower classes hidden up the sleeve and is made right or left handed to suit all tastes. It is a favorite and effective weapon of assassination, being driven downward from behind inside the collar bone, and is sometimes double bladed and poisoned, the poison being carried in a suitable hollow in the butt.

The double curve of the blade, derived from that of a cow's horn and resembling that of a scorpion's sting, recurs in the klanjar and chitnum and throughout Afghanistan. With a variety of this weapon Lieutenant Willis was killed in the battle at Kandahar. The strangest of secret arms is perhaps the bagh nakh, or tiger claw, of the Mahatras, with its two rings for the first and fourth fingers and the three to five curved steel claws destined to protrude from the closed hand between the fingers and to rip open or mangle the victim. The hand half open shows only two bright rings round the fingers.

The clinched fist becomes the armed paw of the human tiger. Mr. Egerton tells us how the Mahatras leader Sivaji murdered his enemy, Afzal Khan, after inviting him to a conference in which each should come with one attendant only. Sivaji wore a mail cap and coat under his turban and cotton gown, had a bich-lawa in his right sleeve and a bagh nakh on his left hand. The Khan had only his sword and sent away his follower to reassure Sivaji, who was of small stature and comported himself timidly. "In the midst of the customary exchange Sivaji struck the bagh nakh into the bowels of Afzal Khan, who quickly disengaged himself, clapped his hand on his sword, exclaiming "Treachery and murder!" but Sivaji instantly followed up the blow with his dagger. The Khan had drawn his sword and made a cut at Sivaji, but the concealed armor was proof against the blow. The whole was the work of a moment, and Sivaji was wrestling the weapon from the hand of his victim before the attendants could run toward him."—Saturday Review.

REVIVAL MEETINGS NOW IN PROGRESS

Much Interest in East Baptist and 3rd St. Methodist.

Children's Day Services Yesterday at the Broadway Methodist—New Series at Grace Episcopal.

ASCENSION DAY THURSDAY.

The revival at the East Baptist church, Mechanicburg, is still in progress, and yesterday there were large congregations. Rev. J. S. Cheek of the First Baptist church, was present in the afternoon. Last night was one of the largest crowds of the week, and a great deal of interest is being shown. The meeting will continue through the week with services at 3 and 7:15 p. m. The pastor, Rev. T. E. Richey, is assisted by Rev. H. H. Taylor, from Murray, and Mr. Murray is a forcible speaker and has given some strong and earnest sermons.

Yesterday was "Children's Day" at the Broadway Methodist church, and the services were very elaborate, covering both the morning and night church hour. The morning was given over to the primary classes, and was marked by an interesting graduating exercises when a class of seventeen was promoted to the intermediate grades. The evening service was for the older pupils and they were assisted by Mrs. George B. Parker and Miss Anna Bird Stewart with readings, and Miss Julia Scott, Messrs. Robert Scott, Charles Simms, John E. Robinson and Will Clark in the singing. The song "To the Harvest Field," rendered by Frank Young, Spencer Johnston, Morris Lagerwahl, Norvin Allen and Leslie Puryear, gave much pleasure and was repeated by request.

Rev. D. C. Wright, rector of Grace Episcopal church, has begun a series of Sunday evening sermons on "Beason Lights of Church History," that promise to be of a high order of interest. Last night he gave the first on "St. Paul and Catholicism," and it was especially fine. They will no doubt attract much attention.

Thursday is Ascension day and will be observed at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church with mass at 7 and 9 a. m. and vespers at 7:30 p. m. Grace Episcopal church will have service at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. P. H. Field began a protracted meeting at the Third Street Methodist church yesterday. He will be assisted by Rev. J. P. Newsome, of Arkansas, an evangelist of the Southern Methodist church, who has quite a reputation as a forceful preacher and an active worker. Good crowds were out yesterday and there is promise of a successful meeting. The services will be held each day at 9:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. William Bourquin, of the German Evangelical church, has organized a Bible class for grown people in his Sunday school. It is taught by Mr. Bourquin and has quite a large attendance.

AT PARIS.

Secretary Hay Will Spend Three Days at the French Capital.

Paris, May 20.—Secretary Hay arrived here yesterday for a three days stay. His train was met by the officials of the American embassy and later he was called upon by Ambassador McCormick, former Ambassador Porter and a number of old friends, including Henry Brooks Adams, who lunched with the secretary and then took him for an automobile ride in the Bois de Boulogne.

Secretary Hay has profited greatly by the treatment he underwent at Bad Nauheim, but by order of his physician he is observing a very strict regime which will compel him to refrain from accepting any invitations or the making of official and social engagements. He will observe the same quiet as a health precaution during his brief stay in London, preparatory to sailing for the United States.

SAVING AS A HABIT.

Those people who find saving easy, and they are not a few, are usually people who make saving a habit. In fact it is only when saving becomes a habit that the best results are gotten.

It is a good habit. It is about the only habit you can have which will do you no harm. The money you save is merely being put aside for future spending. If we were asking you to give us the money you save, you would not be interested in saving, but we merely ask you to save now while you may be prosperous, for the time when you may not be so. One dollar will start an account.

ASSOCIATED DRUG STORES,
Paducah Sun. Louisville, Ky.VERY SMALL PONY.
Causes a Very Large Amount of Excitement in County.

A little Shetland pony ran away Saturday on the Mayfield road and caused several runaways before he was finally stopped.

The pony encountered the first vehicle on Munyon's Hill but didn't stop for it. He ran in under a horse driven by Miss Hattie Waller and frightened the animal, which ran away and threw Miss Waller out, and also her brother, who occupied a seat beside her. Miss Waller was badly bruised but not seriously injured. The brother escaped.

A little further on the pony ran into a vehicle driven by Mrs. Hines, who resides near Florence and was coming to town. Mrs. Hines' horse became frightened and ran away, overturning the buggy and throwing the occupant out. She escaped with bruises but the buggy was badly damaged. It is said the pony ran several miles and was finally stopped about five miles out. It is said to belong to a local grocery company.

AARON KOHN LOST.

He Worked For Senator Goebel For the Glory of the Cause.

Cincinnati, O., May 29.—The jury in the case of Aaron Kohn against Arthur Goebel, administrator of William Goebel, in the Kenton court at Covington, returned a verdict for the defendant. It required thirty minutes for the jury to settle the case. Mr. Kohn sought to recover a fee of $5,000 for legal services alleged to have been rendered during the gubernatorial contest. During the trial Kohn offered testimony to show that he had worked hard for Goebel.

Arthur Goebel as administrator said the lawyers were retained in the case on the advice of democratic leaders to Goebel, that the lawyers would willingly give their services to him to be compensated by advertisement, and glory of working for the democratic party.

LIVELY TIME.

Created at a Foot Washing by Bruce Gilliam.

The annual foot washing in the Florence Station neighborhood, was held Sunday at the old Mt. Pleasant church and one feature not down on the program came off.

This was a difficulty between Bruce Gilliam and G. B. Park. It seems that Gilliam had too much liquor under his belt and started trouble. Park struck him in the head with a stick and felled him, but Gilliam is said to have escaped without serious injury.

Gilliam this morning created some excitement near Florence Station while driving recklessly. The morning accommodation train was stopped because he is alleged to have driven a little girl onto the tracks in front of the engine. Attorney Pete Seay and other passengers state that Gilliam seemed to have been drinking.

AFTER THE DOGS.

Chief Collins to Go After Them Tomorrow.

Chief of Police James Collins stated this afternoon that the police and license inspectors were going after the dogs next week and would impound them and put them to death in cases where owners refuse to pay a license.

There are many dogs running at large in the city without owners and all who refuse to pay will have their dogs confiscated. Chief Collins stated that the inspectors would get warrants if this prove a better means of collecting dog license.

For Breach of Peace.

Mr. L. E. Girardey, the piano dealer, was arrested this morning and released on bond to appear tomorrow in police court and answer to a breach of the peace charge. It is alleged that Mr. Girardey went into the office of Mr. E. H. G. Boone and cursed and abused him and refused to get out. Mr. Boone swore out the warrant.

Ben Boyd Won Two.

Bowser's Soft Heart

Betrays It by Starting Out to Succor a Poor, Starving
Young Woman.

HAS A STRANGE DREAM

Sees Wife Begging Food For Dying
Husband, but He Fails to Verify the Vision.

(Copyright, 1905, by T. C. McCutcheon)

WHEN Mr. Bowser reached home the other evening it was raining and blowing, and the figure of a woman who had called at the basement door crowded past him as he entered the gate. As soon as he had gained the inside of the house he asked of Mrs. Bowser:

"Was that woman whom I saw at the basement door just now a neighbor?"

"No," was the answer. "I did not go down, but I heard the cook telling her that we had no stale bread. I presume it was a beggar."

"But do you know whether it was or not?"

"I will find out. Did she ask you for money?"

"Never mind whether she did or not, but ascertain her identity."

The cook said it was an old woman who came around every day or two for

"Mrs. Bowser, is our cook a liar?"

stale bread, and when Mr. Bowser was informed of this he had no more to say and went down to dinner. During the meal he was silent and thoughtful, and after trying in vain to draw him out Mrs. Bowser concluded that something had gone wrong at the office and gave over her attempts. When they reached the sitting room he walked up and down for two or three minutes and then said:

"Mrs. Bowser, is our cook a liar?"

"Why, of course not," she exclaimed. "That's a funny question to ask."

"It may seem funny to you, but I assure you that there is no humor in it. The woman asked for stale bread, did she?"

"The cook says she did."

"But do you know whether she did or not? Were you down there to hear her words?"

"I told you I was not. I heard her voice, however, and I know it was an old woman who often calls here. I think she gathers up stale bread to feed a few chickens on. How does it come about that you are so greatly interested in her?"

"A night or two ago I had a dream. I dreamed that a man lay dying in a garret room and that his weeping young wife started out to beg for money to buy him food. I saw those two people and that room just as plainly as I see you. In my dream I saw that wife turned away from door after door, and as I followed her she staggered down to the river and leaped in. As the waters closed over her I awoke with a shout on my lips."

"It's curious that I didn't hear your shout and that you said nothing to me of the dream," observed Mrs. Bowser.

"It may be curious and it may not. The face of that poor woman was indelibly impressed on my memory. The cook says that it was an old woman who called here half an hour ago for stale bread. I say it was the young wife of the dying man and that she was asking for a few pennies to buy him medicine or some delicacy. She was heartily turned away, just as I dreamed."

"That's all nonsense. You have got a dream and some story you have read some time all mixed up. In the first place, if the man lay dying, as you think you dreamed, he would have no appetite to eat anything."

"Mrs. Bowser, don't try to ridicule or sarcasm on me, for I must have it. When this woman passed me at the gate I saw her pitiful mouth, her tear-filled eyes, her look of desolation and despair. It was the same woman. Somewhere within half a mile of us her husband lies dying, and you, among others, have heartlessly turned her from your door."

Mrs. Bowser went to the head of the basement stairs and called the cook up, and when the woman appeared at the sitting room door she asked:

"Behold, was there any one of the basement door just as Mr. Bowser came home?"

"There was, mum."

"And who was it?"

"The old woman who comes around for stale bread."

"Are you sure?"

"Why not, mum? She has been here fifty times, and tonight when I said I had nothing she called me a liar to my face."

"That will do, Bridget."

When the cook had disappeared Mrs. Bowser turned to Mr. Bowser with a question on her face.

"I understand it all," he replied. "Bridget is either mistaken or is a liar. It was the woman of my dream, and nothing on the face of the earth can make me believe to the contrary—the same eyes, the same mouth, the same despair. And if I am not mistaken—and I don't think I can be—she moaned out as she passed me, 'Will no one in this great city give me a nickel to save my husband's life?'"

"Then why didn't you give her a nickel? I am sure I should."

"Because it came upon me so suddenly that I did not know just how to act."

"But you know now, and if you go wandering around the streets asking for an old woman who collects stale bread to feed her chickens you will probably hear of her."

"By the horn spoon, woman, you have a heart of flint!" roared Mr. Bowser as he almost jumped up and down.

"I deny it. I have just as kind a heart as any woman, but I'm not taken in by dreams and beggars."

"And the inference is that I am?"

"In this case you are raising a row about nothing. There is no dying husband, no wife with a pitiful mouth. It's an old woman weighing about 200 pounds, in the best of health, who is after stale."

Mr. Bowser started down the hall toward his hat and overcoat.

"Where are you going?"

"He slowly made ready to go out and then turned and said:

"I have been told in my own house that I'm a visionary—a dreamer—an idiot. My story about a tearful woman has been laughed to scorn. I am going to prove that I am right in this matter, and when I have proved it—when I have furnished the most incontrovertible and incontestible proofs that I am right—then, Mrs. Bowser, then—"

And he was gone.

"Poor Mr. Bowser!" sighed Mrs. Bowser as the door banged after him, and the lock came and rubbed her foot and looked up in a puzzled way.

Mr. Bowser set his face toward the townhouse district, but he had not gone a block before he met an old woman with a basket on her arm. She looked to be a beggar, and he stopped and negotiated her with:

"My good woman, can you tell me if—"

"Keep away from me! Keep away from me!" warned the woman as she backed off.

"Why, woman, I am no highway robber. I stopped you to simply ask—"

"And don't you be stopping me or I'll scream for the police. It was only two nights ago that an old villain of your looks stopped me to ask a question and then choked me and took away my 10 cents. Back with you or I yell!"

Mr. Bowser backed, or at least stood still while she passed on. He was a trifle discouraged, but he kept on until he came to a saloon. There were five or six men in front, and when he entered they followed him.

"What's it to be?" asked the bartender.

"I want to know if you know of a woman around here whose husband is dying?"

"I do," was the reply. "Three of them."

"And so do I," added every man who had followed him in.

"This woman has a—pitiful mouth."

"The same."

"And her eyes are full of tears."

"That's right, and after we have had a drink I'll tell you where she lives."

"But I'm not here for a drink," softly replied Mr. Bowser. "I'm here to—"

"You are not going to treat the crowd?"

"Of course not. I called in here—"

"House mit him, boys!" exclaimed the bartender. "He's some old hound who's got stuck on a woman and wants to run her down. Give him the grand house!"

And Mr. Bowser got it. He was run outdoors and lifted off his feet and clanked head first into a snow bank, and when he crawled out he found it necessary to strike a gait of a mile a minute to leave the crowd behind. Mrs. Bowser was reading when he softly opened the front door.

"Well, have you found the woman with the pitiful mouth?" she called.

No answer.

"And have you got those incontrovertible and incontestible proofs?"

No answer.

Then she went out into the hall and found tracks leading upstairs—great big tracks—tracks of mud. Mr. Bowser had dodged the issue. M. QUAD.

The naval officers who went to Metropolis Saturday to inquire into the complaint that a sand bar is filling the Metropolis harbor, returned Saturday night and left for Washington.

The members are Maj. Hoxie, Capt. Kutz and A. H. Weber. They gave out no statement, but it is understood will recommend that something be done to prevent further damage.

Capt. William Benjamin Cox, or Capt. Ben Cox, as he was better known in river circles, died at his home three miles east of Jeffersonville of Bright's disease. He was the oldest pilot around Louisville and was appointed to the position in 1869. Capt. Cox was born March 5, 1824. At the age of fourteen he left school and became a cabin boy on the steamer Medcoe. A log was kept by Capt. Cox, and this shows that he made a total of 356 trips from Louisville to New Orleans of which 136 were on regular line and freight packets; 176 on towboats, and 44 on transient boats.

The Jim T. Duffey arrived out of Tennessee river with 52,000 cross-ties from Florence, Ala. John Furman and Nathan Smith, pilots. Pay Lyon, chief engineer; Floyd Morgan, second. A. W. Wright, master.

The Red River arrived today in place of the Reuben Dunbar, which returns to the Evansville trade. The Dunbar has been in place of the Huttoff, which broke a shaft two weeks ago. The Red River left at noon for Clarksville.

The City of Savannah arrived from St. Louis yesterday morning about 6 o'clock and went up the Ohio to Diamond Island to get a cargo of corn to reship at Johnsonville, Tenn. She is due back from the Ohio to morning and leaves for Tennessee river.

The big towboat Harry Brown arrived today and Capt. Floyd Burroughs took charge of the handsome little gasoline launch built for him by Mr. George Simpson, of Paducah. He was greatly pleased with it, as it is one of the prettiest, soundest and fastest on the Ohio. The Harry Brown is cleaning boilers today, but gets out this afternoon late for Louisville.

SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,
Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. BILLINGHAM COMPANY

"Have you the ladders ready?" cried Morgan to Hornigold, who had been charged to convey the ladders to the ladders by which they hoped to get over the walls.

"All ready, captain," answered that worthy.

"Let us go forward, then. We'll halt just out of gunshot shot and convert our further plans. We have the governor in our hands, lads. The rest will be easy. There is plenty of plunder in the town, and when we have made it our own we'll over the mountains and into Caracas, Hornigold, you are lame from a wound. Look to the prisoners."

The rising moon flooding the white strand made the scene as light as day. They kept good watch on the walls of La Guayra, for the sound of the shots in the night air had been heard by some keen-eyed sentry, and as a result the garrison had been called to arms. The firing had been too heavy to be accounted for by any ordinary circumstances, and officers and soldiers had been at a loss to understand it. However, to take precautions were wise, and every preparation was made as if against an immediate attack. The drums were beaten, the ramparts were manned, the guns were primed, and such of the townpeople as were not too timid to bear arms were assembled under their militia officers.

The watchers on the west wall of the fort were soon aware of the approach of the buccaneers. Indeed, they made no concealment whatever about their motions. Who they were and what they were the garrison had not discovered and could not imagine. A prompt and well-aimed volley, however, as soon as the buccaneers came within range apprised them that they were dealing with enemies, and the expected discharge Morgan deployed his men.

"Lads," he said, "we'll board you first with a rush and a cheer. The ladders will be placed on the walls, and under cover of a heavy fire from our musketry we'll go over them. Use only the cut-throat when you gain the parapet and ply like men. Remember what's on the other side!"

"Aye, but who'll plant the ladders?" asked one.

"The priests and the abbess," said Morgan grimly. "I saved them for that."

A roar of laughter and cheers broke from the ruffianly gang as they broke through the neatness of the old buccaneer's scheme.

"It's an old trick," he continued, "we did the same thing thirty years since at Porto Bello. Eh, Hornigold? How's that leg of yours?"

"Stiff and sore."

"Hide here then with the musketeers. Touch, you shall take the walls under the cliff yonder. L'Ollonols, lead you men straight at the fort. De Lussan let the curtain between be your point. I shall be with the first to get over. Now, charge your pieces all, and Hornigold, after we have started, by show and careful fire do you keep the Spaniards down until you hear my cheer. After that hold your fire."

"But I should like to be in the first rank myself, master," growled the old boatswain.

"Ho, ho," laughed Morgan. "That's a right spirit, lad, but that cut leg holds you back, for which you have to thank this gentleman," (pointing to Alvarado with a hideous contumace. "You can be of service here. Watch the musketeers. We would have no firing into our backs. Now bring up the priests. And, Hornigold, watch Senorita de Lara. See that she does not escape. On your life, man, I'd rather hold her safe," he muttered under his breath, "than take the whole city of Caracas."

With shouts of fiendish glee the buccaneers drove the hideous abbess and priests, who had been dragged along in the rear, to the front. The Spaniards were lying at them now, but with no effect so far. The distance was great and the moonlight made aim uncertain, and every time a head showed itself over the battlement it became a target for the fire of the musketeers, who, by Hornigold's orders, ran forward under the black shadow cast by the high cliff, where they could not be seen, and from this point of concealment, taking the liberty of aim, made havoc among the defenders.

"Now, good fathers," began Morgan. "You have doubtless been curious to know why you were not put to death I saved you not because I loved you, but because I needed you. I had a purpose in view. That purpose is now apparent."

"What would you do with us, senor?" asked Sister Maria Christina, the abbess.

"A little service, my sister. Bring up the ladders, men. See, there are seven all told. That will be four ladders to four ladders, with one priest over for good measure and to take the place of any that may be struck down."

"And what are we to do with them, senor?" asked the leader of the priests, Fra Antonio de las Cañas, drawing nearer to the captain.

"You are to carry them to yonder wall and place them against it."

"You do not mean," burst out Alvarado painfully, for he could scarcely speak from his wounded cheek, "to make this holy woman and these good priests bear the brunt of that fire from the fort?"

"To value the lives of women and priests, accused Spaniards, more than our own?" questioned the captain, and the congenial sentiment was received by a yell of approval from the men. "But if you are tender-hearted I'll give the defenders a chance. Will you advise them to yield and thus spare these priests?"

"I cannot do that," answered Alvarado sadly. "It's their duty to defend the town. There are twenty here; there are hundreds there."

"I've heard that, mates," cried Morgan. "I've with the ladders!"

"But what if we refuse?" cried one of the priests.

"You shall be given over to the men," answered Morgan fiercely, "whereas if you do as I order you may go free—those who are left alive after the storm. Do ye hear, men? We'll let them go after they have served us," continued the chief, turning to his men. "Swear that you will let them go! There are others in La Guayra."

"We swear, we swear!" shouted one after another, lifting their hands and brandishing their weapons.

"You hear?" cried Morgan. "Pick up the ladders!"

"For God's sake, sir, unsay your words! We cannot place the ladders which will give you access to yonder helpless town!"

"Then to the men you go," cried Morgan ruthlessly.

"Death," cried the abbess, snatching a dagger from the nearest hand and driving it into her breast, "rather than dishonor!"

She held herself proudly erect for a moment, swayed back and forth and then fell prostrate upon the sand, the blood staining her white robe about the left of the point. She writhed and shuddered in agony where she lay, striving to say something. Fra Antonio sprang to her side and before any one could interfere knelt down.

"—I have sinned," she gasped. "Mercy, mercy!"

"Thou hast done well. I absolve thee," cried the priest, making the sign of the cross upon her forehead.

"Death and fury!" shouted Morgan, livid with rage. "Let her die undisturbed! Shall I be balked thus?"

He sprang toward the old man, stooping over the woman, and struck him across his forehead with the blade of his sword. The priest pitched down instantly, a long slender running through him; then he lay still.

"Harry Morgan's way!" cried the buccaneer, recovering his blade. "And you?" turning toward the other priests. "Have you had lesson enough? Pick up those ladders, or—"

"Mercy, mercy!" screamed the frightened ecclesiastics.

"Not another word! Drive them forward, men!"

"The buccaneers."

"Ho, ho," laughed Morgan. "That's a right spirit, lad, but that cut leg holds you back, for which you have to thank this gentleman," (pointing to Alvarado with a hideous contumace. "You can be of service here. Watch the musketeers. We would have no firing into our backs. Now bring up the priests. And, Hornigold, watch Senorita de Lara. See that she does not escape. "You shall be given over to the men," answered Morgan fiercely, "whereas if you do as I order you may go free—those who are left alive after the storm. Do ye hear, men? We'll let them go after they have served us," continued the chief, turning to his men. "Swear that you will let them go! There are others in La Guayra."

"We swear, we swear!" shouted one after another, lifting their hands and brandishing their weapons.

one and then another gave way: The only leader among them lay upon the sand. What could they do? They picked up the ladders, and, urged forward by threats and shouts of the buccaneers, under cover of a furious discharge from Hornigold's musketeers, they ran to the walls, imporing the Spaniards not to fire upon them.

When the Spanish commander perceived who were approaching, with a mistaken impulse of mercy he ordered his men to fire over their heads and so did little damage to the approaching buccaneers. A few of them fell, but the rest dashed into the smoke. There was no time for another discharge. The ladders were placed against the walls, and the priests were ruthlessly cast aside and trampled down. In a little space the marauders were upon the ramparts, fighting like demons. Morgan, covered by Black Dog, with Teach, De Lussan and L'Ollonols, was in the lead. The desperate onslaught of their overwhelming numbers, once they had gained a foothold, swept the defenders before them like chaff. Waiting for nothing, they sprang down from the fort and raced wildly through the narrow streets of the town. They brushed opposition away as leaves are driven aside by a winter storm. Ere the defenders on the east fort could realize their presence they were upon them also.

In half an hour every man bearing a weapon had been cut down. The town was at the mercy of this horde of human tigers. They broke open wine cellars, they pillaged the provision shops, they tortured without mercy the merchants and inhabitants to force them to discover their treasures, and they looted the helpless women. They were completely beyond control now. Drunk with slaughter, intoxicated with liquor, and with lust, they ravaged and plundered. To add to the confusion, fire burst forth here and there, and before the morning dawned half of the city was in ashes.

The pale moon looked down upon a scene of horror such as it had never before shown upon even in the palmiest days of the buccaneers.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE musketeers under Hornigold, chosen for their mastery with the weapon, had played their parts with cunning skill. Concealed from observation by the deep shadow of the cliffs and therefore immune from the enemy's fire, they had made targets of the Spaniards on the walls and by a close, rapid and well-directed discharge had kept down the return of the garrison until the very moment of the assault. Hornigold was able to keep them in hand for a little space after the capture of the town, but the thought of the pleasure being enjoyed by their comrades was too much for them. Anxious to take a hand in the hideous fray, they stole away one by one, plinking under the cliff until they were beyond the reach of the boatswain, then boldly rushing for the town in the open, until the old sailor was left with only a half dozen of the most dependable surrounding himself and prisoners.

The rest would not have got away from him so easily had he not been so intensely occupied that at first he had taken little note of what was going on. Mercedes and Alvarado had only opportunity to exchange a word now and then, for extended conversation was prevented by the guards. Alvarado strove to cheer the woman he loved, and she proudest him she would choose instant death rather than dishonor. He could give her little encouragement of rescue, for unless word of their plight were carried to the viceroys immediately he would be far on the way to the Orinoco country before any tidings could reach him, and by the time he returned it would be too late.

Again and again Alvarado strove to break his bonds in impotent and helpless fury, but this time he was securely bound, and his captors only laughed at his struggles. In the midst of their grief and despair they both took notice of the poor abbess. Fra Antonio had not moved since Morgan had struck him down, but there was life still in the woman, for from where they stood, some distance back, the two lovers each marked her convulsive trembling. The slight appeared profoundly to them in spite of their perilous situation.

"The brave sister lives," whispered Mercedes.

"Yes," answered Alvarado. "Senor," he called, "the sister yonder is alive. Will not allow us to minister to her?"

"Nay," said Hornigold brusquely. "I will go myself. Hark, all of ye!" he added. "She may be too confound to me in default of the worthy father!"

He leered hideously as he spoke.

"Coward!" cried Alvarado. But his words affected Hornigold not at all.

Before he could say another word the guards forced him rudely back with the two women. The worthy Senora Agapita by this time was in a state of complete and total collapse, but Mercedes bore herself as proudly and as resolutely as if she still stood within her father's palace surrounded by men who loved her and who would die for her.

Holding the body of the prostrate old man aside, Hornigold knelt down on the white sand by the form of the sister. The moonlight shone full upon her face, and as he stooped over her he seemed to see his one eye. A sudden flash of recognition came to him. With a muttered oath of surprise he looked again.

"It can't be!" he exclaimed. "And yet!"

After Fra Antonio's brave attempt at absolutism the woman had fainted. Now she opened her eyes, although she

SKIN DISEASES

Altoona, Pa., June 20, 1903.
I was afflicted with Tetter in bad shape. It would appear in blotches as large as my hand, a yellowish color, and scale off. You can imagine how offensive it was. For twelve years I was afflicted with this trouble. At night it was a case of scratch and many times no rest at all. Seeing the good the medicine was doing a friend who was taking it for Eczema, I commenced it, and as a result the eruption began to dry up and disappear, and to-day I am practically a well man. Only two tiny spots are left on the elbow and shin, where once the whole body was affected. I have every confidence in the medicine, and feel sure that in a short time these two remaining spots will disappear. S. S. S. is certainly a great blood purifier, and has done me a world of good. I am grateful for what I have accomplished, and trust that what I have said will lead others who are similarly afflicted to take the remedy and obtain the same good results that I have.

125 East Fifth Ave. JOHN F. LARAB.

While washes, poultices, salves and powders relieve temporarily, they do not reach the real cause of the disease. The blood must be purified before the cure is permanent. S. S. S. contains no poison, arsenic or mineral of any description, but is guaranteed purely vegetable. Send for our book on the skin and its diseases, which is mailed free. Our physicians will cheerfully advise without charge any who write us about their case.

Was not yet fully conscious. "Water!" she gasped feebly. And as it dawned the boatswain had a small bottle of the precious fluid hanging from a strap over his shoulder. There was no pity in the heart of the pirate; he would have allowed the woman to die gasping for water without giving her a second thought, but when he recognized her—or thought he did—there lastly sprang into his mind a desire to make sure. If she were the person he thought her she might have information of value. Cuddling the lotie and pulling out the cork, he placed it to her lips.

Herbina.

Will overcome indigestion and dyspepsia; regulate the bowels and cure liver and kidney complaints. It is the best blood enricher and invigorator in the world. It is purely vegetable perfectly harmless and should you be a sufferer from disease, you will use it if you are wise.

R. N. Andrews, editor and manager Cocoa and Rockledge News, Cocoa, Fla., writes: "I have used your Herbina in my family and find it a most excellent medicine. Its effects upon myself have been a marked benefit. I recommend it unhesitatingly." 50c.

There was tremendous political interest in the case.

Takes to the Stage. Louisville, Ky., May 29.—Marvin Hart has taken to the stage at last. He will be seen at the Masonic here in vaudeville this week, his stunt being to illustrate the last four rounds of his fight with Jack Johnson. Jack McCormick, Hart's sparring partner, is cast for the part of "Mistah Johnson." He has not announced whether he will make up black face or not.

CAUGHT ROBBER

HAD PARTIALLY DYNAMITED THE EXPRESS CAR.

Was Knocked in the Head By the Express Messenger and Overpowered.

St. Paul, May 29.—General Manager H. J. Horst of the Northern Pacific, received the following detail concerning the hold up of the north coast limited at Bearmouth, Mont.: Northern Pacific north coast limited train No. 2, was held up about 11 p. m. May 27, two miles east of Bearmouth, Mont., by one man.

After ordering the messenger out of the car the robber, who had about twenty-five pounds of dynamite, blew the safe open in the express car, shattering the side of the car and blowing the door off the safe.

After the discharge of the third explosion the robber forced Engineer Wilson to crawl in the car ahead of him, and the messenger to follow. As soon as in the car the bandit forced Engineer Wilson to strike a match, and as he did this Wilson saw Express Messenger Laub ready to hit the robber with a piece of the broken car. Wilson immediately blew the match out and the express messenger struck the robber and knocked him out. The robber was not killed, but was bound and taken to Brainerd and turned over to the county authorities.

The express car was not badly damaged and went through on the run. No valuables were taken and the passengers were not disturbed. The railway company wired Wilson and Laub congratulations and will immediately mail each man a check for $1,000 in recognition of their services.

Cupid Defeated.

A HALF repentant bachelor, with quite a pile of rocks. Dropped in one day beside the way and bought a pair of socks. Arrived at home—romantic joy—he wondrously drew out. A note deep hidden in the hose—from some fair hand, no doubt!

"I'm twenty years of age," it read, "and called a country belle! With you I'd like to correspond—if you will never tell. My object matrimony is, and yours, I hope, the same. If you'll address me, I'll respond." And then she wrote her name.

On his way home the bachelor that very evening wrote. And folded his epistle with a kiss inside the note. My Cupid had him in his mesh—no very clever catch. For, after all, quite foolish to a half repentant bach.

But, oh, how sheepish did he feel when from the fair unknown This answer came to quench his flame: "An old maid I have grown! Alas, 'twas forty years ago I planned that fond surprise. Defeated by a heartless wretch who wouldn't advertise!" —Printer's Ink.

Mad Passing Doubt. "And they tell me you are engaged to Miss Brilliant. Is it so?" "Yes," replied Brouley, smiling proudly. "It's true."

"Well, you have the woman of the hour." "And that's the only thing that troubles me," cut in Brouley, looking serious. "These women of the hour often change their minds every sixty seconds." —Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Shocking News. "Mrs. Blank made an awful faux pas on her bouquillon." "How was that?"

Two Tales in One. Six-year-old George's father had taken him to a circus, and that night the mother asked her little son what he had seen.

"Mamma," said George, all excitement, "I saw a great big 'Phant with two tails, and he was eating with one of 'em." —Lippincott's Magazine.

Her Rule.

"We are constantly being misquoted by the newspapers," said the professor. "Yes," answered his wife. "I am getting so that every time I see a clever remark attributed to you I take it for granted that the interview is not genuine." —Washington Star.

No Was Satisfied. Sister—What! You engaged to Miss Prettyman? Why, she has no family tree. Brother—Oh, I guess she has—and judging from her appearance it must be a peach! —Columbus Dispatch.

ADDITIONAL WAR

the strait of Korea, where the battle between the Japanese and Russian fleet is reported to have had its beginning.

Says Russia Came Out First.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—The St. Petersburg telegraph agency publishes the following from Shanghai under date of May 28:

"From all quarters telegrams are arriving here announcing that a naval battle is in progress between the Tsu straits, and the Japanese coast. No details are given, but the tone of telegrams from Chefoo is favorable to the Russians. The telegrams say that Vladivostok squadron participated in the engagement."

"An English firm in Shanghai has received a telegram from Tokio to the effect that the Japanese have been victorious, but nobody here believes it."

"There is the greatest excitement in Shanghai. All the warships in the harbor have cleared for action."

"The cable to Woonung has been interrupted since yesterday but the cause is not known."

"Numerous merchantmen have postponed their departure pending the receipt of further news."

Washington Receives Notice.

Washington, May 29.—A dispatch was received at the state department yesterday saying that the Japanese government had made the announcement that its fleet had engaged the Russians in the straits of Korea Saturday and held them. The reported sinking of the battleship Horodino was mentioned in a dispatch received at the state department from the consul at Nagasaki.

Following is the text of the Nagasaki dispatch to the state department:

"Nagasaki, May 28.—The Japanese have sunk the Russian battleship Horodino and four more warships and a repair ship."

The other dispatch read as follows:

"Tokio, May 27.—The Japanese fleet engaged the Baltic squadron this afternoon in the straits of Fushima, which was held, cannonading being heard from shore."

Says Russian Fleet is Dispersed.

London, May 29.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Daily Mail says the Russian fleet has been dispersed, several Russian ships being disabled and the remainder in flight with the Japanese in pursuit.

DAMAGE TO JAPANESE.

London, May 29.—As many Japanese vessels are still pursuing the Russians, it is believed that Togo's vessels have sustained little or no injury. It is reported, however, that five Japanese cruisers and twelve torpedo boats were lost or damaged, but no confirmation of this report has been received.

RUSSIAN CAPTAINS WENT DOWN.

Tokio, May 29.—Eight captains of Russian vessels destroyed in the battle were drowned with the sinking ships and the crews made prisoners.

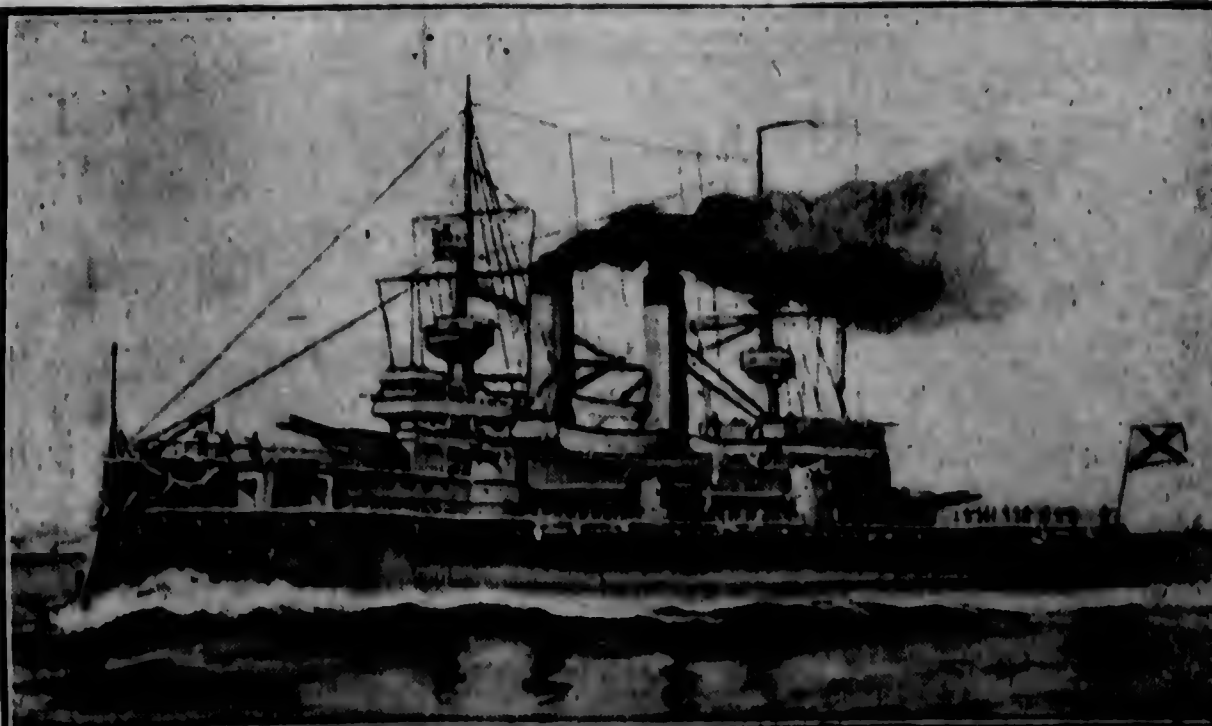

Tokio is delirious with joy. During the battle the firing could be easily heard on shore.

JAPAN ALSO SUFFERER.

London, May 29.—The Central News is authority for the statement that a private telegram has been received here, saying that the naval battle in the Korean straits is still progressing.

The Japanese are following up victory by pursuing the Russian warships, which it is reported have been widely scattered in order to make the blow they have inflicted on the enemy as heavy as possible. A message from Tokio announces that official reports state that the Russian losses reported up to this morning are twelve vessels either sunk or captured.

According to a private telegram quoted the Japanese suffered to a considerable extent as well as the Russians. This telegram says that three cruisers and twelve destroyers of Togo's fleet were sunk or totally destroyed.

BATTLESHIP BORODINO, OF ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY'S FLEET.

The Borodino is one of the ships reported sunk by the Japanese navy.

between the Russian and Japanese fleets. Official and diplomatic quarters are without advice, most of the information reaching Paris coming through Associated Press dispatches, forwarded from the United States. These dispatches are prominently displayed in the evening editions of the newspapers and eagerly commented on.

The Temps reproduces a dispatch from Rome saying that the Italian minister of marine, Admiral Mira-Chefo giving a rumor that a battle of the most violent character has been fought in which both combatants suffered serious loss.

All of the newspapers display a tone of extreme anxiety over the result. The Temps pays a glowing tribute to Admiral Rojestvensky's skill in preparing the squadron for the final encounter and to his audacity in taking the route where the Japanese were strongest.

The Echo de Paris' St. Petersburg correspondent says that a letter has been received from Admiral Rojestvensky written six weeks ago in which the admiral said he desired to reach Vladivostok without combat if possible, but that he would do nothing to avoid an encounter.

The Forces On Land.

Headquarters of Japanese Army, Near Tientsin, May 29.—The first realization of the immensity of the Japanese forces was brought home to the observer when two central armies rolled across the Shahu in the wake of the retreating Russians. Hitherto during the battle parts of two or three brigades of infantry, with a few battalions of reserves, a dozen or more batteries, with pack trains and field hospitals, were all that one person could see in the mountainous country of the great armies engaged. But when the whole array moved northward with its impedimenta following it was an impressive host.

Looking from the heights where the Russian batteries had been one could see many khaki colored processions for miles on either hand emerging from the valleys and passing where the Japanese had been concentrating since October, streaming across the dry bed of the river and the narrow channels of ice and winding away among the bare hills and sandy plains northward. It was a business-like army swathed in dark blue and khaki with no spectacular show of gold braid nor brass and hardly a touch of color except the scarlet blankets worn over the shoulders. Most of the ranks were boys yet, but they were toughened by a year of campaigning into hardy veterans. They plodded on silently, an unmanly, with no show of rejoicing over victory, without confusion or excited officers.

Japanese dominion over Manchuria was spreading at the rate of two miles an hour. By the river banks were fields of kaoliang, which had stood unharvested since fall between the lines of hostile cannon, and through these were swarming men, women and children reaping and stacking their crops. The Chinaman strikers away no time gaping at victorious armies when a few dollars are to be gathered.
